Jeannette E. South-Paul, MD

Professor and Chair, Family Practice, University of Pittsburg

Kameda Visiting Faculty; May 15,2006

Jeannette E. South-Paul, M.D. joined the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Pittsburgh in July 2001, as the Department Chair after serving for 22 years as a family physician in the US Army. She served as the Chair of the Department of Family Medicine at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Services for six years prior to her military retirement. Dr. South-Paul is an alumna of the University of Pennsylvania and the medical school at the University of Pittsburgh. She has served on multiple committees and task forces related to minorities in medicine including the committee creating the COGME Minorities in Medicine

Report in 1997. She is currently the Chair of the Association of American Medical Colleges' task force to develop a cultural competence curriculum for medical schools. She also serves as the Senior Advisor for the American Academy of Family Physicians committee that partnered with the Bureau of Primary Care of the Health Resources and Services Administration to develop a cultural competence video teaching module. She maintains an active family medicine practice to include maternity care at the UPMC Matilda Theiss Clinic. Her research interests include maternal child health and fitness and evaluating cultural competence in clinicians and trainees.
